I included two versions of a G as well as two versions of the D chord. The choice is yours.

On the Dsus4 chord (if you follow my version with the 1st finger barring the second frets) you can simply add your 3rd finger to the High E string third fret note instead.

This song seems much harder than it is. The D to Dsus4 is just a transitional chord so it comes in rather fast.

Almost every chord gets the same value so once you get the overall feel for it you should do fine.

Intro:

D – Dsus4 (x3) then move immediately to the next part (the next part picks up with this same intro so just play right through)
