

Banana Pancakes – Jack Johnson

Strumming Pattern: DUDU*

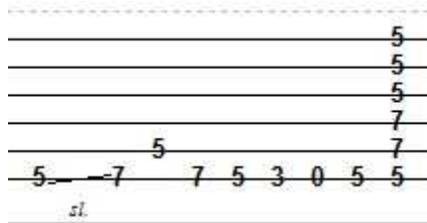

The entire overall pattern of this song is just DUDU, but at the end of every progression, mainly at the C7 and D7 chords you'll need to add this pattern: DD (basically down –down)

Most of the chords are muted, which you can do with your picking hand by resting your palm against the strings right behind the sound hole on your acoustic. Mute the strings just enough and it will sound perfect.

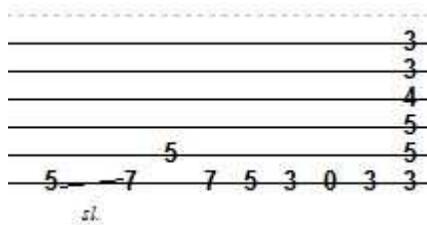

Tempo: 115 BPM

Riffs Used:

This is the Am riff, noted with the Am barre chord at the end.

This is the G riff, noted with the G barre chord at the end.

At the beginning of the song you'll play both of these riffs x2. You will end on the G barre chord, which starts the verse.

When you see 'riff into G' this means that FROM the Am barre chord you will then play the second riff. When you see 'riff into Am' this means that FROM the G barre chord you will then play the first riff.

I didn't include the fingerings because the movement is very easy and can be played with mostly any finger or fingers.

Chords Used: (don't pay attention to note values – these are just the chords)

Intro: Riff into Am – Riff into G (repeat)

G	D7	Am	C7	G
You hardly even notice, when I try to show ya, a song...
	D7	Am	C7
is meant to keep ya' from doin' what you're s'posed ta'.
G	D7	Am	C7	G
Wakin' up too early, maybe we could sleep in, make you
	D7	Am	C7	Am
banana pancakes, pretend like it's the weekend now...
(riff into G) G
We could pretend it all the time...
(riff into Am) Am
Can't you see that it's just raining?
(riff into G) G
There ain't no need to go outside.
D7
Just maybe..

G	D7	Am	C7	G
Ha la ka ukelele, mama made a baby! Really don't mind to practice, cuz' you're my little lady...
	D7	Am	C7
G	D7	Am	C7	G
Lady lady love me, cuz' I love to lay you lazy. We could close

D7 Am C7 Am
the curtain, pretend that there's no world outside....

(riff into G) G

We could pretend it all the time...
